WEDNESDAY, JULY, 18, 1900

When news continues to be received from China which leads the mind to the more savage age, it is impossible to discuss mere political differences upon any present view that can be taken of the situation. Who is to blame for the fault committed is of small concern when we stand in the presence of the most awful savagery there has been manifested since the mutiny in India. There is a common feeling of sympathy that pervades the race for the misfortunes of others, and more particularly is it so when the unfortunate are of the white race. The atrocities of the heathen at Peking and elsewhere in the empire of China is appalling when it is learned that people are butchered without regard to age, sex or condition.

A desire to punish the guilty wretches within the lines of civilization takes possession of our better nature, until impatience at the slow movements of christianedum takes control of all there is of us. It is now understood that a mistake has been made, without the means at hand to give a remedy. The unexpected has happened and the conspiracy against the Flowery Kingdom has received a check that no apology is at hand to meet. Hostility is taking the form of general apathy, which is a general that could be dispensed with at this time to the advantage and relief of a civilized world.

The jingo part of the campaign against China with its jealousies has been suddenly exploded, and the explosion has come from a mine not expected to exist, and from a source that was generally conceded by the conspirators could not make trouble or cause danger to their plans. The action of China has caused surprise where it was not expected, and the surprise is intensified when power is displayed where it was believed weakness only could exist.

The unexpected, disguises it as we may, has been demoralizing to back prior diplomats, where glared statesmen flared profits and power and small men crawled in the dust at the feet of royalty. When an imaginary house of lords, called a senate, convened on American soil, defy the people and make obeisance to trusts, and a truculent house of commons on the same soil receive and carry into effect the commands of British aristocracy respecting our colonies, it should not be expected that the statesmanship required to meet great emergencies is present.

The policy that has been pursued by the prevailing and powerful commercial presence at Washington has been the means of taking the country into a position that is anything but assuring to those who believe there are interests to be cared for other than the interests of trusts, whose business is a part of the system that has caused our presence in the Orient as a conquering power, and not as a republic seeking to strengthen the principles included in the Declaration of Independence by extending liberty and free government to people in the farthest parts of the earth.

When a departure is made from the purpose of the framers of our government system the first obstacle there is presented to the imperial system that has been substituted in theory and in practice for the simple and pure method of government made by our fathers is war. Imperialism means force if it means anything in government. The theory is physical force directed by centralized power. The force was entered upon when the administration adopted the system and the centralized power made its appearance through exclusive direction by McKinley of the war force.

Centralized power was freely acknowledged and confirmed by Senator Lodge at Canton when he was informing McKinley of his late nomination by the Republican party for the presidency. Senator Lodge when reciting the prowess of McKinley as a war president in an imperial relation informed him of the many great things he had done while conducting the war with Spain and later in the Philippines. McKinley, when the recital was made in the presence of the Republican leaders, was, not in theory only, but in truth, the first American Caesar receiving a triumph in a more civilized form than a Roman Caesar would have accepted, but the war gods of the Republican party are not as brave or trained to lanes and spear as were the Caesars of Rome.

The only thing there was omitted that would have made the triumph more Roman, which was a very great oversight by Senator Lodge and others of the Republican leaders, was a try-umphal car with a few Filipinos and Porio licens chained to its after end. It may not be too late to improve upon the Roman method on the fourth of March next when he is sworn in Caesar for the second time, then he may have a few Chinamen to enlarge the list of captives taken in his imperial wars.

Had not the imperial system been substituted for the simple republican system of the fathers of the republic there would not now be present in China American soldiers battling with detachments of the imperial armies of Europe, who are in that country not to defend legations but to enforce the demands of imperial power upon China in the interest of money by dividing its territory, which is the moving cause to the inhuman work of the heathen that has fallen upon innocent people and caused the husband and father to shoot his wife and children before his own death came to prevent their torture by savages who have become mad over encroachments made by European imperial governments.

THE LOCAL PROSPECTS

Something About the New Mines in the Vicinity of Reno.

Prof. R. D. Jackson's new cyanide plant at Sodaville is nearing completion and will soon be in operation.

Lots of claims are recorded every week at the county recorder's. A new book of huge dimensions has been procured and records are being filed in it with constant regularity.

Several small bins filled with promising looking copper ore are to be seen at Henry Ritter's saloon. The specimens are wonderfully rich and it would not take many tons to put out on the easy road of life.

Mr. Hopkins discovered a genuine bit of anthracite coal somewhere in the mountains near by. He solemnly swears that it was not picked out of anybody's private coal hod, but actually happened where he picked it up as float.

Geo. Ostrander of Arabia mining district, unearthed the prettiest onyx mine that one would wish to see. The samples he showed a reporter were gems in their line and the mine will prove a fortune maker to the lucky finder.

MINES AND MINING

Items About Nevada's Leading Industry Clipped From Exchanges.

The De La Mar mine produced $100,000 in June. Nine thousand tons of ore were worked in the mill.

That a fifty-ton mill will be built this year by the Ely Mining and Milling company at the Ely, Nevada, mine, is practically assured.

Captain J. R. De La Mar is in Salt Lake City and will make a tour of inspection of his mining properties in Nevada, Utah and California.

The new 10-stamp mill at the Young America mine in Tascara, Elko county, is operated by a gasoline engine and is crushing thirty tons of ore daily and the mine is said to be on a paying basis.

The people of Genoa are feeling very cheerful over the prospect of opening up some good mines in the copper belt back of that town. The men working on the mines are sorting and sacking ore for shipment to San Francisco.

All the furnaces are running full blast again, No. 1 being started the first of the week after a brief close town for repairs. Copper canyon is producing some very rich ore now and the consignments of matter to Salt Lake are very large.—Goldsand News.

A 20-stamp ore-crushing mill and cyanide plant is nearly completed in Bull Run district. Bull Run is situated on Bull Run mountain, Elko county, about thirty-five miles north of Tascara and eighty miles from Elko, the latter being the nearest railroad station. The ore is exclusively gold-bearing and high-grade.

Among the Sick People.

Professor C. P. Brown is very low, and stout hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Typhoid is a most treacherous disease, and one in its clutches is never out of danger. Professor Brown was taken sick while half way across the continent, and the hot, tiresome homeward journey proved to be anything but beneficial for the sick man, although the services of a skilled doctor and trained nurse were at command on the train.

The most serious symptoms which have occurred so far are hemorrhages of the bowels, and their effects are a terrible drain on the constitution. The whole community have the interests of the rising young professor at heart, and each and every one earnestly hopes for his recovery.

Stanley, the young son of M. E. Ward, is confined to his bed with a malignant attack of typhoid fever. The little boy is in a bad way, but not hopelessly ill.

Dead Fish.

It is said that dead fish line the river bank in the vicinity of State line. It is further claimed this is the result of the poisonous refuse from the Florslan paper mill.

If correct, this is a matter that demands the immediate attention of the California Fish Commissioners.

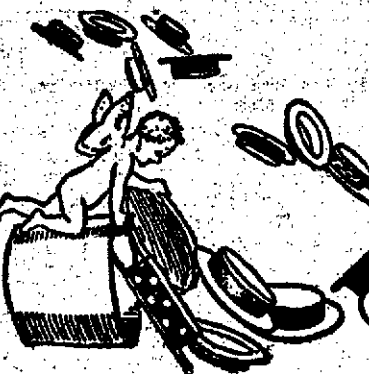

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement, I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

MINES ARE A SUCCESS

Mr. Brown Confident that the Properties on Peavine Will be Heard From.

EDITOR JOURNAL: On my return from Peavine, where the cool breezes blow, I find the interest in prospecting and the weather very warm. I am in hopes that the mining interest will not cool with the weather this fall, but that our people will continue to use all the rigs in town every Sunday. Of course we don't like to see the congregations so diminished because of this mining boom but the preachers must look forward to the time when their collections will be increased thereby.

Our business men are getting an idea of what a revival in mining means to them, and we believe that they have the business sense to do all in their power to carry the business to a successful issue. We hope our novices in mining will not be troubled with cold feet because they don't make a fortune out of the first ton of ore or find coined money in a ten-foot shaft. We warn them before they start, that mining is hard impatient work and it takes time and money to develop a good mine.

The Nevada Exploration & Development company has labored patiently on old Peavine for nearly four months now and we can assure the stockholders that the mines there are a success.
For proof of this we invite them to examine the ore displayed in Henry Ritter's place on the corner of Virginia street and Commercial Row. This ore is out of five different prospects and from veins from two feet to twenty feet in width. The company can put twenty men to work who can easily take out two tons of ore to the men every day. If any one still thinks the new smelter will look ore to keep it running, let them take a trip up on top of Peavine and inform themselves.

We noticed a very ably written article on "Copper Mining" in the Gazette from the pen of Honorable Thomas Wren and we heartily endorse what he has to say on that subject.
Mr. Wren shows both experience in,
and an understanding of, copper ores.
We should like to see something from the pen of Prof. R. D. Jackson or some other mining man.

The movement that is on foot to sink a shaft on the big dyke north of town should be encouraged by every man or woman who has a dollar's worth of interest in this town. If one deep shaft would touch ore on that dyke Reno would be a city in a day.

J. H. BROWN.

LITTLE LOCAL
BREVITIES

Items of Street and Town too Brief for Separate Heads.

Raspberries are a plentiful crop in and about Reno this summer.

G. W. Perkins' furniture store was looted Monday night and the thief escaped with $30, also a few articles which struck his fancy.

Work is in progress along the river bank—out on the stone wall, but upon a sewer, and the roarin' blasts awaken the echoes and startle timid people quite frequently.

His beauty hot in Reno, but not a marker to what eastern people are endoring. When citizens begin to drop on our streets by the dozens, then we can kick in good earnest.

The Owl's moon light jollies and dance is but a memory now, however the memory is a delightful one and all who danced beneath the rays of the yellow harvest moon are anxious to see another Owl's picnic materialize.

nominee for vice-president by the People's party national convention:

O'Keefe, Jacob Gooding, Captain Stoddard, George Peckham and John Sanderland.

The committee is requested to meet

LIVELY
LOVELOCK

The Mining Fever Also Prevails
in Our Sister
Town.

Loveclock smiles serenely from her locality in a desert land. To approach the town one has to undergo a siege of alkaline dust, and stifling heat, yet on arriving in the town everything assumes another hue. Shade trees afford pleasant lounging places, shrubbery grows luxuriantly wherever one takes the trouble to plant, water and care for it. The soil in the near neighborhood of the village is wonderfully productive, and vast stretches of level land fairly teem with wheat, barley, alfalfa and garden produce.

At present townsmen and ranchers are "rushed to death," the farmers in harvesting crops, and the townspeople in providing for the wants of the influx of men who yearly flock there to secure employment.

There may be a little shortage in hay and grain this season on account of a water famine, but the average will be fairly good, so there's no kick coming.

The mining fever prevails in our sister town. Claims and prospects are owned by every wide awake citizen.

Trinity, Arabia and Cottonwood districts are exciting the most interest.
At Cottonwood a smelter is being erected, the machinery for which is nearly all at hand.

Loveclock pretends to be slightly jealous of Reno's mining prospects, but boasts are made that Reno cannot hold a candle to the rich things in sight throughout the Humboldt mountains.
From the aspect of that country one would judge anything probable in the line of mineral deposits. At any rate an incentive to go ahead characterize the people east of us, which trait is bound to benefit the community.

The Trickling
Truckee River.

Two months ago the Truckee could be truthfully termed as a turbulent mountain stream, today the same is a mucky mass of green slime. 'Tis a disgusting sight and one which tends to detract from Reno's attractive appearance.

Some suggestions were overheard as to how this nasty condition might be bettered. The irrigating ditches opening out from the main channel above town are all running bank full, each ditch company seems to regard it as their sole right to force every drop of water they can through the bulkheads of their respective waterways, thus allowing much water to run to waste.
The dams along the river are made almost water tight in their greed for a blooming ditch full of water. If the parties would divert enough, and no more, of this precious H<sub>2</sub>O, perhaps the Truckee would pick up enough material to pass beneath the Virginia street bridge at a decent pace and not be a giddy eyesore to those interested in Reno's welfare.

Safe in Boston.

A telegram announced the safe arrival of the unique petrified man recently shipped by Mr. Burton to Boston.

Tales regarding its discovery, origin and freakishness form no small part in the interest it is arousing in the "Hub." The museum wherein the mummy will be placed on exhibition is to be enlarged and strengthened in order to accommodate the throngs expected when Nevada's petrified man is placed in position for public sight seers.

Notice to Ditch Owners.

All parties owning interests in any of the ditches about Reno are requested to meet at the Court House Friday afternoon, July 20th, at 3 o'clock.

Alarm System.

The contractors of the new alarm system report work progressing nicely.
By next week a trial will be made and results reported for the benefit of Renoites.

KEMMA, Jackson Co., W. Va.
About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since.—A. B. PARSONS. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

Best in the World.
We believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough. Having read their advertisements in our own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see if it would effect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for colds and coughs.—The Herald, Andersonville, Ind. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

Albert F. Price of Franktown was a visitor to Reno Monday.

In almost every neighborhood there is some one whose life has been saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or who has been cured of chronic diarrhoea by the use of that medicine. Such persons make a point of telling of it whenever opportunity offers, hoping that it may be means of saving other lives. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

Will Canonica of Vinton, who accidentally shot himself a few weeks ago, is here receiving treatment. He is rapidly slugging and there is little hope for his recovery. He had two hem-orrhages yesterday.

Robbed the Grave.
A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement, I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.
